
At matched intermittency per distance bin (samples within 3 m of each side's streakline): invariant to the sensor's unknown, saturating transfer function. Gaps: the model plume reaches the sensor less often than the data whiff rate in that bin.